

CORNELL UNIVERSITY

FAMILY WEEKEND HIGHLIGHTS

OCTOBER 19-21, 2018

Register at: ccengagement.cornell.edu/families

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19

10:30am–6:00pm: Family Weekend Check-In

Pick up registration materials, learn about Ithaca and the surrounding area, and enjoy light refreshments.

9:00am–4:00pm: Open Classes for Families

12:00pm–5:00pm: Tours, Open Houses, and Gallery Events Across Campus

Take a closer look at the services, opportunities, and beauty that Cornell offers its students. Departments and programs, museums, libraries, and centers on campus will be welcoming you. You are invited to ask questions, learn about resources, and explore opportunities available to your student.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20

8:30am–10:30am: Family Weekend Check-In

9:00am–10:15am: College Receptions

9:00am–3:00pm: Insectapalooza $3/person; free/children, 3 and under

This annual insect fair, hosted by the Department of Entomology, is fun and educational for children, teens and adults! Learn how insects interact with people and impact our lives—for better or for worse.

10:30am–3:15pm: Faculty Lectures and Information Sessions

Unique lectures by faculty members and informative sessions from programs including Career Services, Cornell Abroad, Housing, Off-Campus Living, the Learning Strategies Center, and Sorority and Fraternity Life

12:00pm–3:00pm: Fall Fest

Celebrate autumn with more than 70 clubs and organizations providing activities and giveaways.

1:30pm–3:30pm: Paddling on Beebe Lake

5:00pm: Twilight Concert with the Cornell University Chorus $15/adults, $5/students and children

7:00pm: Women's and Men's Ice Hockey Red/White Game (Intersquad Scrimmage)

This annual tradition kicks off the hockey season in storied Lynah Rink. Come cheer on the Big Red!

8:30pm: The Key Elements Fall Show—Rocktoberfest XX $8/person

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21

9:00am–11:00am: Coffee in the Gardens

Sip on coffee or cocoa while enjoying the natural beauty of the Cornell Botanic Gardens. Docents will be available to educate visitors about the gardens and plants. Research shows that spending time in nature can have real, tangible benefits for health and well-being, so come out and enjoy a cozy beverage as you walk the garden paths.

THROUGHOUT THE WEEKEND

Take part in the Cornell Council for the Arts 2018 Biennial by viewing art installations throughout campus that provoke university-wide conversation about the persistence of passage, from environments to communities, while emphasizing the challenge of survival in hostile socio-ecological climates.

For your convenience, some event tickets can be purchased on the Family Weekend website along with registration; ticket prices may be higher at the door.
